

Summer Ethics Fellowship for Seminary/Divinity School Students and New Clergy

Being paired with Jews and Christians of diverse backgrounds and worldviews pushed me to examine my own theology. I left FASPE with the courage to speak when speaking is required, and to always be a voice of conscience.

Daniel Headrick, George W. Truett Theological Seminary, 2016 Seminary Fellow

FASPE Seminary (Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics in Seminary) is a fully-funded two-week summer program that uses the conduct of the clergy and other religious leaders in Nazi Germany as a launching point and backdrop for an intensive study of contemporary ethics. FASPE Seminary is predicated upon the power of place. Fellows visit Auschwitz and other sites in Germany and Poland where they consider how to apply the lessons of history to the ethical challenges facing religious leaders today.

In 2017, the program will take place from Monday, June 19 – Friday, June 30. (Fellows are expected to arrive in Europe by Sunday, June 18.) All program costs are covered, including round-trip travel from New York to Europe, European travel, lodging, and food. FASPE Seminary Fellows travel and share some seminars with Fellows in the FASPE Medical program.

FASPE Seminary is open to currently enrolled graduate students preparing to serve as religious leaders, whether studying at a seminary, divinity school, or other graduate program. It is also open to clergy who received an MDiv or seminary degree between January 2015 and January 2017.
